

Mapping Boston's Role in the American Revolution

Summer Teacher Institute

July 13-17, 2015

Norman B. Leventhal Map Center at the Boston Public Library

- Investigate the Revolution with a geographical focus
- Discover what maps and other primary sources reveal about the Revolution
- Engage and explore with historic sites, scholars and other educators
- Create a final primary source set and curricular materials for your students

Dates & Time: Monday, July 13-Friday, July 17, 2015 (9 am -3 pm most days: total 25 hours)

Audience: Grades 3-12 Teachers

Instructors & Locations: Sponsored by Leventhal Map Center and Boston National Historical Park

In partnership with:

The Massachusetts Historical Society

The Bostonian Society/Old State House

Old South Meeting House

The Paul Revere House

Old North Church

The National Archives and Records Administration

PDPs/Graduate Credit: Up to 45 PDPs, 2 graduate credits, optional (additional $150 to Framingham State University)

Cost: $75 (includes some meals and classroom materials)

To Register: Go to maps.bpl.org, professional development

For more information, contact mleblanc@bpl.org, 617-859-2294

